FIFO Travel Benefits

Salary package eligible FIFO work flights using pre-tax dollars and potentially increase your take-home pay.

If you work in a remote area (as defined by the ATO) and are required to work away from your usual place of residence under a Fly-In, Fly-Out (FIFO) arrangement, you may be able to salary package the cost of your flights between your home and workplace.

By using pre-tax income to pay for eligible flights, you may reduce your taxable income and achieve potential tax savings.

Explore the Potential Benefits

- Use pre-tax dollars to pay for eligible FIFO flights
- Reduce your taxable income and increase your disposable income
- Tax savings on regular work travel expenses
- Less financial stress with streamlined payment arrangements

Eligibility

- You work in a remote area as defined by the ATO
- You are required to work away from your usual place of residence under a FIFO work arrangement
- Flights are between your usual place of residence and your usual place of employment and are self-funded
- Flights depart from and return to your normal home airport

What's Not Covered

- Flights not for the employee (e.g. family or friends)
- Holiday or leisure travel
- Travel that is not related to returning to your usual place of employment or usual place of residence

Getting Started

Existing Paywise members
Contact us via the Paywise App or website, or give us a call to confirm your eligibility and we'll guide you through the setup.

New to Salary Packaging?
Contact us to get started!

Flight Bookings

To book or amend flights, please contact Globetrotter:
1300 599 406
globetrotter.com.au/contact-us

Contact Us

1300 132 532
customerexperience@paywise.com.au
paywise.com.au/fifo-travel

Learn More

Potential benefits, savings and tax outcomes will vary depending on individual circumstances. Before making a decision you should consult your independent legal, taxation and financial adviser for advice relating to your personal circumstances. Terms, conditions, eligibility criteria and fees and charges apply.